“ The share price of HALLMARK cards will be taking a nose dive when Betsy's annual order does not appear this year. Someone ought to grab her rolodex and preserve it forever! Such a grand lady: in love with life, her family and the legions of admirers and friends she and the Farwells made over the years. I well remember standing in the LFCDC parking lot for the afternoon pick-ups in my orange parka waiting for that orange station wagon to make its appearance; I will never forget the wonderful warm home she managed and her generosity at Christmas all those many years.

We have lost one of the originals. Thanks for the memories Betsy!
