“ I remember meeting Mr. Fanella when I was still just a teenager, I got to know him and his family after becoming great friends with John. I never really knew a true Italian family like the Fanellas, especially for me being a young guy originally from Texas, so it was always an interesting experience. I was so impressed knowing the incredible journey that was made coming from Italy to America, and the life he forged by the time I came around. A Lot of my memories of Mr. Fanella were of him at work, we would often go and meet John there where the entire family contributed, but Mr. Fanella was definitely in charge 😊. He was an important part of the local community running a highly successful business for many years. The rest of my memories of him would be at their beautiful home where I mostly saw him at the head of the table surrounded by his family, they would have many spirited conversations in Italian, which always fascinated me, even though I didn't know what he was saying 😊. It was a home filled with Love and respect for one another, and I attribute that to Mr. Fanellas leadership, he always welcomed me into their home with open arms, and I will never forget that. He truly achieved the American dream, and that must be applauded. I am grateful to have known such a high value individual. So to Mrs. Fanella, John and Lori, I offer my deepest condolences, may your Dad rest in peace and God bless all of you.
